

Title: [XMAS] Christmas Goodies to Go

Summary Hosting a party this Christmas? Be the hostess (or host, for the guys) with the mostess without having to slave away in the kitchen. With a bountiful selection of festive takeaways to choose from, we'd rather ditch our aprons and leave it to the experts to whip up a feast while we look pretty, pop the bubbly, and entertain our guests. Chendol log cake, Tandoori turkey, Nyonya assam chilli turkey, anyone? Here's a toast to festive feasting without the fuss!

Date Monday, December 16, 2013

Section:

Publication: www.poachedmag.com

Page:

Keywords: Tiong Bahru Bakery

ARTS ENTERTAINMENT FASHION FOOD PERSPECTIVE STARTUP STORE

[XMAS] CHRISTMAS GOODIES TO GO

BY DENISE LEE | FOOD | 16 DECEMBER 2013, MONDAY

Hosting a party this Christmas? Be the hostess (or host, for the guys) with the mostess without having to slave away in the kitchen. With a bountiful selection of festive takeaways to choose from, we'd rather ditch our aprons and leave it to the experts to whip up a feast while we look pretty, pop the bubbly, and entertain our guests. Chendol log cake, Tandoori turkey, Nyonya assam chilli turkey, anyone? Here's a toast to festive feasting without the fuss!

Tiong Bahru Bakery

Goatran Cherrier has crafted two types of log cakes this holiday season that will appeal to those who love fruit in their dessert. The French Juliette Log ($45) is packed with summery berry flavours, featuring almond dacquoise, mixed berries cream, glistening mixed berries jelly, and smooth vanilla mousse. The Caulaincourt Log ($45) is not to be missed either, composed of a hazelnut dacquoise centre, cloaked in chocolate ganache, and dressed with mango jelly and jasmine tea mousse.

Tiong Bahru Bakery's Juliette Log and Caulaincourt Log are available from December 15 to 31, 2013 at all Tiong Bahru Bakery outlets.